Japan Communist Party (JCP)

1. The Reconstruction of Democratic Politics: 1) Political Stance; 2) Measures to Prevent Violence; 3) Constitutional Revision, Etc.

1) Aiming for peace, independence, neutrality, and democracy, we will realize politics in which the people are the main actor. Major national issues will always be placed before a general election. We shall guarantee the right to petition totally and have people's representatives participate in various administrative commissions. 2) We will dissolve right wing terrorist gangs, abolish the national police that tacitly permits and assists their terrorism and will aim for their consolidation into democratic self-government police. 3) We will protect the Constitution and will abolish unconstitutional laws and regulations. The reapportionment of Diet seats in accordance with population ratios.

2. The Security Treaty System: 1) Handling of the New Security Treaty; 2) Neutralism; 3) Defense Capacity

1) The Ikeda Cabinet is on the verge of implementing an invalid security treaty. The people oppose this and are, in a sense, at the stage of struggle. By winning in the general election, we will abrogate the new treaty. 2) We will secede from the Japan-U.S. military alliance, establish a group security system in Asia that includes China and the Soviet Union, guarantee peace through a neutralist policy, and realize complete independence. 3) We oppose the nuclear armament of the Self-Defense Forces and other military expansion plans. We will dissolve the Self-Defense Forces and will absorb its members in peace industries.

3. Foreign Policy: 1) Basic line; 2) The Japan-China Issue; 3) The Territorial Issue

1) We oppose the anti-socialist camp U.S.-dependent foreign policy in the name of "U.N.-centeredness" and for the sake of peaceful coexistence will promote a peace-oriented, neutralist, and independent foreign policy. 2) We will end the policy of hostility toward China, abrogate the Japan-Taiwan treaty, and reestablish Japan-China relations. We will conclude agreements on trade, fishing and culture between the governments of Japan and China. 3) The return of Okinawa and the Ogasawaras, the conclusion of a Japan-Soviet peace treaty, and the removal of U.S. military bases--on basis of these, we shall peacefully resolve the Etorofu-Kunashiri issue.

4. Long-Term Economic Plan: 1) Economic Growth Rate; 2) Priority in the Plan; 3) Means of Achievement

1) High growth is possible if a people's front government encourages an autonomous and independent peace economy that protects the people's interest. Nine percent growth is impossible with the government's anti-people, monopoly capital oriented economic policies. 2),3) We will do this by expanding the consumer market through a large-scale increase in wage earner income, the restriction of monopoly profits, a large-scale increase in trade with the socialist bloc, the nationalization of part of the monopoly corporations, and encouraging in a comprehensive and prioritized manner the development of less developed regions such as remote areas and offshore islands.

5. Industry: 1) Trade Liberalization; 2) Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries, 3) Small and Medium-sized Businesses

1) We oppose liberalization for the sake of Japanese and U.S. monopoly capital. We will expand East-West trade and will improve the international balance of payments. If things continue as they are, this will bring about a worsening of the international balance of payments. 2) We oppose the LDP's "Basic Law for Agriculture agricultural policy" that calls for 60 percent of the farmers to leave agriculture. Long-term, low-interest loans to farmers and fishermen and autonomous cooperativization for working farmers. 3) We will promote through the state the modernization of funding, materials, and facilities of small, medium, and ultra-small businesses, the regulation of unit prices for subcontracting, and the autonomous cooperativization of these.

6. National Life: 1) Price Policies; 2) Tax Reduction; 3) Housing and Land

1) We will strive for the reduction of prices through the reduction of monopoly prices on raw materials for consumer goods production and planned increase in the production of livelihood necessities. 2) A wage earners annual deduction of 500,000 yen and the new establishment of a deduction for all household worker wages and spouses. We will abolish special tax measures that guarantee unfair profits to capital and establish a steeply graduated tax system. 3) The liberation of bases, military public lands, U.S. military housing, and the Imperial Palace. Limitation of private ownership of urban housing land to under 150 tsubo per household. We will construct 3 million units of public housing through a five-year plan.

7. Social Security and Labor: 1) National Pensions; 2) Labor Measures; 3) The Employment Problem

1) We oppose the contributory national pension. We will establish a non-contributory system wherein the government and capitalists bear the total cost. 2) Disputes in all instances will be resolved by labor and management and interference by the government, police and Self-Defense Forces will be abolished. We will establish democratic labor legislation that fully guarantees the right to organize, the right to collective bargaining, and the right to strike and will abrogate various repressive legislation. 3) We will implement a 40 hour work week that does not involve wage reductions as well as the absorption of the unemployed through the promotion of the appropriate location of industry and the expansion of public works projects. We will establish a minimum wage system.

8. Education: 1) The Basic Law for Education; 2) Service Ratings; 3) Moral Education

1) We will defend the Basic Law for Education. We will oppose the revision of the Basic Law for Education for the worse for the purpose of strengthening central control over education with aim of achieving "national anthem" education. 2) We will guarantee the right of teachers to engage in political activities and will abolish service ratings. 3) We oppose all militaristic measures such as the implementation of moral education, the revision of the course of study for the worse, the revision of educational curriculums for the worse, and the system of authorized text books. We will realize full national sponsorship of compulsory education and job training, as well as acceptance into high schools without examinations.
