

the effectiveness of education, we promote them fairly and in accordance with the law. We will strongly demand that the Japan Teacher's Union reconsider its attitude of opposing them for political purposes. 3) In order to bring up a nation that loves its country and has high moral character and good sense, as well as to prevent the delinquency of youth, we will stress moral education all the more.

52:60

Japan Socialist Party (JSP)

1. The Reconstruction of Democratic Politics: 1) Political Stance; 2) Measures to Prevent Violence; 3) Constitutional Revision, Etc.

1) We will protect the pacifism and democracy in the Constitution and strive for their complete implementation. Respecting discussion in the Diet and, in addition, the intentions of the people, on issues where public opinion is greatly divided we will through dissolution appeal to the confidence of the nation. 2) We will heighten public opinion denouncing terrorism and will address the connections of the right wing to the conservative party and the business community, and sever its source of funding. 3) We oppose Constitutional revision. With regard to the Election Law, along with strengthening the joint responsibility system [regulations holding a candidate also responsible for election law violations committed by his or her campaign officers], we will implement completely public management of elections and reapportion Diet seats in proportion to the number of voters.

2. The Security Treaty System: 1) Handling of the New Security Treaty; 2) Neutralism; 3) Defense Capacity

1) Although the the fact that the new Security Treaty has been issued internationally cannot be denied, in view of the invalidness of its content and its method of establishment we shall make it dead letter through the power of popular opinion and then in the future abolish it through international negotiation. 2) The establishing of friendly relations with both the U.S. and the Soviet Union and China is, if anything, the way to assure Japan's security. If a Socialist government is established, we shall declare Japan's neutrality to the world and look to United Nations for security. 3) We oppose nuclear weapons. We will reorganize the Self-Defense Forces into a National Land Construction Peace Brigade through a four-year plan.

3. Foreign Policy: 1) Basic Line; 2) The Japan-China Issue; 3) The Territorial Issue

1) Through the large-scale affiliation of Asian and African countries, the various neutral countries are on the verge of becoming a force that moves the U.N.. We will expedite this trend and make positive neutrality the base of Japanese foreign policy. 2) We will conclude a peace treaty with the People's Republic of China and end completely the state of war. Since Taiwan is a part of China, we will abolish the Japan-Taiwan Treaty. We will abolish the COCOM regulations and fully resume Japan-China trade. 3) We will seek the immediate return of Okinawa and the Ogasawaras from the U.S. and the return of the Kuriles from the Soviet Union in exchange for the abolition of the Japan-U.S. military alliance.

4. Long-Term Economic Plan: 1) Economic Growth Rate; 2) Priority in the Plan; 3) Means of Achievement

1) A four-year plan. Because of the need to clean up after LDP misgovernment, an annual growth rate of 8 percent during the first year. For the remaining 3 years, a growth rate of 10 percent. 2) We will end rearmament, emphasize national land development and social security, and quadruple the income of the low income strata. We will widen trade with the Communist bloc and expand employment. 3) We will regulate uncontrolled excessive investment and raise investment efficiency. We will strive to promote economic growth by raising the incentive of wage earners by dissipating the dual structure and raising the income of the low income strata, thereby expanding effective demand.

5. Industry: 1) Trade Liberalization; 2) Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries; 3) Small and Medium-sized Enterprises

1) Uncoordinated implementation of trade liberalization will bring about an unfavorable international balance of payments and bankrupt agriculture and small and medium businesses. We will reform the economic constitution by maintaining democratic management of foreign trade. 2) We oppose survival of the fittest-type sacrificing of small farmers. We will encourage the modernization of agriculture and fisheries through cooperative management and mechanization and direct the labor power that emerges into livestock management, fruit growing, and the processing of agricultural produce. 3) We will direct large amounts of government funds to small and medium-sized businesses and will lower monopoly prices of raw materials for small and medium-sized businesses. We will abolish enterprise taxes for the self-employed with earnings under 1 million yen annually.

6. National Life: 1) Price Policies; 2) Tax Reduction; 3) Housing and Land

1) As for public utility charges such as electricity, gas, railroads, postal service, and so on, we will prevent price rises through governmental responsibility. As for perishable food items, we will regulate intermediate expenses and stabilize consumer prices. 2) A 180 billion [yen] reduction of income taxes, small and medium-sized corporation taxes, and commodity taxes on livelihood necessities. A tax increase of 190 billion yen through the reformation and abolition of special tax measures for very large corporations, golf taxes, luxury taxes, and so on. 3) The construction of 4 million residences over four years centered upon public housing aimed at those with low incomes. Through the establishment of a basic law for housing and a public corporation for the development of housing land, we will develop housing land in huge quantities and will reduce land prices by a large-scale.

7. Social Security and Labor: 1) National Pensions; 2) Labor Measures; 3) The Employment Problem

1) We oppose the implementation of the contributory national pension next April. We will postpone this and, along with its sweeping reform, will expand and enrich non-contributory welfare annuities. 2) Oppose revision of labor-related laws for the worse. Since heavy rationalization firings will occur repeatedly with trade liberalization and technological innovation, we will revive the functions of the Central Labor Relations Board as a mediation organ. 3) Unemployment measures for the time being will be to expand employment of the unemployed in public works through an employment promotion public corporation. We will achieve full employment through national land development beginning with a transnational highway and the reduction of working hours.

8. Education: 1) The Basic Law for Education; 2) Service Ratings; 3) Moral Education

1) We oppose amendment of the Basic Law for Education for the worse. It is due to the present Basic Law that Japanese are being brought up who contribute to the peace of mankind and social progress and who are trusted by people of the various countries of the world. 2) The work of education, which influences and leads students through the freedom of the teacher's personality, cannot be measured by a mechanical standard. Malicious bullying of the Japan Teacher's Union will simply lead to disorder in education. 3) To love one's country and relatives is a natural emotion of mankind. It is the elimination of corruption, violence, poverty, and other social evils and a healthy home environment that is the real precondition for true moral education.

Democratic Socialist Party (DSP)

33:60

1. The Reconstruction of Democratic Politics: 1) Political Stance; 2) Measures to Prevent Violence; 3) Constitutional Revision, Etc.